OVER

ORIENTATION TO COLLEGE

A student enrolling in Linn-Benton Community College assumes an obligation to conduct himself/herself in a manner compatible with the functions of the college as an educational institution within a civilized society. There are significant differences between the high school atmosphere and the college atmosphere; for example:

- The student population at LBCC consists primarily of adults who neither need, nor receive supervision from the staff.
- The LBCC staff expects mature, adult-like behavior of all students and do not tolerate inappropriate behavior.
- LBCC does not provide follow-up on nonattendance; students are expected to attend on a regular basis.
- Most students find the pace in the classroom is significantly accelerated compared to that of high school.
- Upon entering the college, students assume responsibility for their actions and for their success. This includes following all registration processes, meeting deadlines, and seeking assistance from the many services available to students.
- Some LBCC classes have special safety standards which require that the student and parent/guardian read and sign safety guidelines.
- Internet access is provided on campus to all students at LBCC. All students are expected to self-monitor for appropriate usage of Web sites and information gathering.

† Providing your Social Security number is voluntary. If you provide it, service providers will use your Social Security number for keeping records, doing research and reporting. Service providers will not use your number to make any decision directly affecting you or any other person. Your Social Security number will not be given to the general public. If you choose not to provide your Social Security number, you will not be denied any rights as a student.

The resident school district will be ultimately responsible for student attendance records, progress records, and plans. Credit and/or outcome verification will occur through various means, as per ORS336.625. Seat time will not be the only indicator of successful credit completion or outcome attainment. Credits and/or outcome attainment will be accepted by school of residence. Diplomas and/or certificates of mastery will be awarded by the school of residence. Linn-Benton Community College expressly disclaims any responsibility for the legal relationships, duties and obligations that exist between school district of residence and the student. The school district of residence shall indemnify and hold harmless the college for any lawsuit or action in equity, brought against the college for disputes arising out of the legal relationships, duties and obligations that exist between the resident district and the student.

LBCC prohibits unlawful discrimination based on race, color, religion, ethnicity, use of native language, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, veteran status, age, or any other status protected under applicable federal, state, or local laws.
